RE: REAL ESTATE SALES AND GOLDEN GATE SALES ROLES

Dear Ms. Darwish and Mr. Yousif,

I am applying to join Grnata's sales team, with Golden Gate by Grnata as the project I would most like to work on. I am Bahraini, and in 2024 and 2025 I sold high-value equipment to ministries and large industrial companies. I would like to bring that experience to property, and to do it inside a company that has built its name in Bahrain since 1982.

Golden Gate is the kind of project I understand how to sell: two towers in Bahrain Bay, 738 freehold apartments from studios to three bedrooms, furnished and equipped, with Grnata managing the property after handover. Its buyers will ask careful questions about ownership, management and value. Those are the same questions I have answered in tender rooms, and my approach is to listen first, explain simply, and follow up until the decision is made. I also noticed that Grnata employed and trained more than 60 Bahrainis with Tamkeen this year. I would be glad to be part of that team.

> Access to decision-makers. I met ministers and undersecretaries at six ministries, presented to Alba, Bapco and GPIC, and closed sales with industrial clients.

> Large opportunities, built step by step. I developed government opportunities exceeding BD 500,000 through tender files, proposals, contracts and MoUs. These are opportunities, not closed sales, and I describe them that way.

> Reviving what was dormant. I took over an inactive product line and rebuilt demand through awareness sessions, live demonstrations and flexible offers (trial, rental, revenue share).

> Digital working habits. I prepare property landing pages, listing presentations, short video ads, brochures and market reports, and I keep client follow-up organised in a CRM.

I want to be open about two points. I have not worked in real estate before, and I do not yet hold the RERA salesperson licence. I am ready to complete the licensing process promptly, and I will learn the product and the Bahrain market from your team before I take on clients. I have attached a 90-day plan for Golden Gate and a sample property brief to show how I would start.

I would value a short meeting at your Seef office. Thank you for your time and consideration.

With warm regards,

Mohsin Almanami
