THE APPROACH

Learn the product and the rules first, then build conversations from people I already know, then turn those conversations into viewings. Every step is measured by activity I control, and I would agree the final targets with the sales lead in week one.

DAYS 1 TO 14

Licence and mastery

Learn before I sell

- RERA salesperson licensing: register, complete the course and sit the exam as soon as dates allow.
- Product mastery: unit types, floor plans, views, amenities, ownership and management terms, the buyer dashboard.
- Site and process: walk both towers and the sales office, learn the reservation and CRM steps, study current Bahrain Bay and Manama market data.
- Shadowing: sit in on viewings and client calls with senior colleagues, and note the questions buyers ask most.

DAYS 15 TO 45

Build the pipeline

Start with people I already know

- Government and corporate network: officials and managers I have worked with, and HR teams who place executives and families in Bahrain.
- Physicians and professionals: relationships built over years in the medical field, many of whom look for homes and investments.
- Listing presentations: a tailored short deck, brochure and landing page for each buyer group.
- Events: join Grnata activity, including Cityscape Bahrain (24 to 28 November) if the team attends, and host small private briefings.
- Follow-up system: every lead logged in the CRM with a next step and date.

DAYS 46 TO 90

Meetings to viewings

Turn conversations into decisions

- Regular viewings: invite each qualified lead to Golden Gate, with a prepared route and a clear answer on ownership, management and next steps.
- Investor and relocation cases: short written comparisons so buyers can decide with facts.
- Weekly review: with my manager, covering leads, objections heard and the follow-ups due.
- Referral habit: thank every contact and ask who else should see the project.
- Month 3 report: activity, lessons and a plan for the next quarter.

PROPOSED ACTIVITY TARGETS (TO BE AGREED WITH THE SALES LEAD)

40	10	30	15
qualified conversations by day 45	listing presentations delivered by day 45	meetings held between days 46 and 90	viewings hosted between days 46 and 90

These are activity measures I commit to. I do not promise sales figures before I have seen the market, the buyers and the inventory.
